Hub Pen Company Employees Get Doused in Frigid Water for a Good Cause

BRAINTREE, MASSACHUSETTS (August 18, 2014) – Hub Pen Company employees accepted the ALS Ice Bucket Challenge, a viral video campaign that has flooded social media in an effort to raise awareness about amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), also known as Lou Gehrig’s Disease.

Hub Pen’s President Joseph Fleming was joined by General Manager Bob McGaughey, National Sales Manager Andy Arruda, Production Manager David Borgatti, as well as Bill Dillon (production), Ashley DeSouza (accounting), and Krissy Freeman (order entry) as they had buckets of ice water dumped on them by coworkers.

They then encouraged colleagues to help strike out ALS by donating to the National ALS Association and issued a challenge to Dave Regan, Vice President of Sales and Marketing at The Vernon Company, who happened to be visiting that day. Regan graciously accepted the challenge.

The event was very successful and a total of $1195 was collected and will be donated in memory of Tina Farnsworth, an employee who died of the disease.
